Fighters of Revolution in More Difficulty.

Proposed Portrait of Mrs.
McLean the Cause.

Scott Escapes Hurt in Runaway Accident.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)—An announcement that the New York City chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution contemplated sending a portrait of Mrs. Donald Scott to the Continental Hall, the national headquarters of the society in Washington, caused widespread comment and much adverse criticism among the members, or "opponents," forces to whom nobody seemed to know much about the portrait here except that it is said to represent Mrs. McLean holding a picture of the Continental Hall in her hand. This caused the rub among the members, which pointed out that the portrait suggested the hall completed, and intimated upon the fact that Mrs. McLean was largely responsible for its completion, a false impression would be given to all those who saw and knew no different.

As a matter of fact, the insurgents feared the hall is not completed, and pointed out with no hesitancy whatever that Mrs. McLean's interest in the Continental Hall was not aroused until she became the president-general of the society.

Walter Harvey Wood, one of the most brilliant members of the society, and a former national officer, is the center of interest here to-day because of a diplomatic little incident by which she brought Mrs. Scott, the administration candidate, and Mrs. Wood, the opposition candidate, together in the hall.

Wood introduced the two candidates to the hall, but Scott refused to go.

Scott, who is a runaway, was seen this afternoon, but escaped without injury.

UP AND DOWN THE VALLEY.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, April 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) It started out this morning like a real balmy summer's day. During the afternoon the wind changed to the northeast, tinged with a frost, ending up tonight with a downpour of cold rain. The maximum temperature was 70 degrees, and the minimum 41 degrees.

Middle West temperatures at 7 p.m.: Alpena, 45; Bloomington, 50; Cairo, 75; Cheyenne, 30; Cincinnati, 75; Cleveland, 74; Concordia, missing; Davenport, 50; Denver, 34; Des Moines, 44; Detroit, 70; Devils Lake, 36; Dodge, 40; Duquesne, 44; Duluth, 42; Escanaba, 33; Grand Rapids, 50; Green Bay, 40; Helena, 42; Huron, 46; Indianapolis, 72; Kansas City, 50; Marquette, 36; Memphis, 70; Milwaukee, 38; Omaha, 32; St. Louis, 75; St. Paul, 50; Salt Lake City, 30; Springfield, Ill., 60; Springfield, Mo., 75; Wichita, 50.

MANY DIE IN CHICAGO. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, April 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Death exacted the heaviest toll in Chicago during the week which has just closed that has been imposed in any seven-day period of the last fourteen months. Seven hundred and thirty-five was the total piled up by the various forms of disease, which is the preceding week and 108 more than was recorded in the corresponding week of last year. This means that more than 200 people died in Chicago during the week which has just closed, or 107 a day, or 32,235 a year. A startling feature of the situation which is pointed out by the weekly bulletin of the health department is that the increase was entirely among persons more than 20 years of age, and that more than one-half of the deaths were from preventable diseases, of which pneumonia was far in the lead. Proper precaution, it is inferred, would have cut the total to 375 or even less. The impure air diseases head the list.

HAIR IN IOWA. (ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) DES MOINES, April 15.—A terrific hail and wind storm struck Des Moines and Central Iowa today. Plate glass windows in down-town stores were blown in and cellars were flooded. At Stuart, hailstones weighing half a pound fell, doing much damage to peach buds.

FINANCIAL. An unfavorable note in the market was the report of a fresh increase in the number of idle freight cars of the country for the half month ending March 31, following successive though small reductions since the first of the present year. As the net result was in spite of a substantial reduction in surplus coal cars, due to the rush to stock up with coal in fear of a possible strike, unfavorable deductions were drawn of the progress of freight traffic and general merchandise movement.

STOCK MARKET VERY SKITTISH. SPECULATORS ARE UNCERTAIN IN THEIR ACTIONS. Certain Stocks in Eager Demand During Week Just Past, While Heavy Selling in the Rule With Others Equally Prominent—Corner in Wheat Actually Felt.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) NEW YORK, April 15.—There was a lack of uniformity about trade movement in the stock market last week that indicated some confusion, and irregularity of speculative sentiment. Special stocks were in eager demand, and lifted sharply, while selling predominated at other points. The extent to which the market was being dominated by a leading motive for the selling, which was prompted by the desire to realize accrued profits, it is evident that consideration of the grain crop outlook is gaining importance from the standpoint of the financial outlook, and the present promise lacks cheering effect.

After allowance is made for these factors in the situation, there remains a substantial residue of activity, which is lacking in the improvement of the condition of the crop over the government's April 1 estimate, which is relied on to insure against a threat of drought.

LINED UP FOR TARIFF FIGHT.

Payne-Aldrich Bill to Come Before Senate Today.

Democrats Prepare to Make Strenuous Attack.

They Will Demand an Income Tax Feature.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The tariff debate in the Senate will begin tomorrow immediately after the close of the routine business. Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Committee on Finance, will make a general statement supporting the bill, and will be followed by Senator Daniel, senior Democratic Senator, who will outline the Democratic position.

Senator Aldrich will explain the various changes made by his committee, and undertake to show that the bill, as reported, will be a strong revenue producer.

Senator Daniel and other Democrats will take the opposite view. They declare the weakness of the Payne-Aldrich bill is that it will insure sufficient income to permit the government to proceed without the addition of other features.

The Democratic Senators will urge an income tax as the most rational and most prolific means of increasing the receipts. They will have the support of some of the Republican Senators, but will not receive assistance from any of the members of the Committee on Finance.

There will be in the Senate, as in the House, a sharp dividing line between general business and no business amendments to the schedules. Immediately after the close of the Aldrich and Daniel speeches, the reading of the bill will proceed with a view to considering amendments. If Senators desire to make set speeches, even on the general subject of the tariff they will be permitted to do so.

The Democrats profess as great an anxiety as the Republicans for the early disposition of the measure. Among the Republicans who will speak on the bill are Messrs. Lodge, Hale, Brown, Carter, Cummings, Cullom, Hayburn, McCumber, Nelson and Smith of Michigan, while the Democratic orators will include Senators Butler, Bacon, Clayton, Gore, Johnston, Money, Newlands, Rayner and Smith of South Carolina.

The House will be in session on Monday and Tuesday only, and no business will be done on either day beyond providing for the next census. The conference report on the general census bill will receive the attention of both houses, and it is probable the House will initiate legislation providing an appropriation for the census legislation to effect.

It is possible, however, that the absence of a quorum in the House will prevent definite action by that body. The House Committee on Ways and Means will give hearings during the week on the Philippine Tariff Bill.

RAPS REVENUE SERVICE.

Former Officer Makes Grave Charges

Against Officers and Cutters—Investigation May Follow.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The charges that James A. Burns, formerly lieutenant and engineer of the revenue cutter service, will probably lead to an investigation.

Burns asserts that the service is not properly equipped to carry on life saving; that officers have frequently refused to move to the rescue of sinking ships until ordered to do so from Washington; that the service exists without reason, in that the insignificant duties performed do not warrant the large appropriations of its maintenance, and finally that the work of protecting seals in Alaska is practically nothing, but the protection of the business of the American Commercial Company, a private corporation.

Burns charges that at the time of the wreck of the liner Valencia, in January, 1904, there were three revenue cutters within a radius of 200 miles that remained at their anchors three days, until ordered to go to the relief of the stricken ship.

At the time of the earthquake, the captain of the cutter McCulloch moved his ship away from the harbor, and refused to participate in rescue work because he did not believe himself recognized by naval officers in command of the harbor.

OFF FOR PANAMA. SECRETARY STARTS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) WASHINGTON, April 15.—Secretary Dickinson and his party, who are to accompany him to Panama, left tonight for Charleston, S. C., where they will embark on the President's yacht, Mayflower, for the isthmus on Wednesday.

The secretary expects to get back to Washington about the middle of May.

BISHOP SCORES ROCKEFELLER.

Declares He Seeks to Control Education Through His General Education Board.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) ATLANTA (Ga.) April 15.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Charging that it is an ally of Rockefeller's general education board, he alleges, is seeking to control the schools of the United States Bishop Warren Candier of the Methodist church, South, today denounced the conference for education in the South, which has just concluded its twelfth annual session here.

Bishop Candier says: "Let us not imagine that the general education board will stop with controlling the colleges. Through its allied body, the southern education board, it seeks to influence public opinion and direct legislation in the common schools."

"With its professorships or secondary education tacked on to the State universities, it will project its influence into the high schools of the country. With its agricultural lectureships it will lay hold of the farmers."

"Then, after a time, when its conference for education in the South, together with its other schemes of propaganda have done their work, we may expect to see the old Blair bill for Federal aid to education revived."

Bishop Candier concludes by urging the South to accept no gifts from the Rockefeller board.

IN CHAIR, ALL ALONE.

End of Father-in-Law of Former Mayor.

Years Estranged from His Daughters Here.

Time Leading Merchant and Very Wealthy.

A. M. Rawson, aged 71 years, father-in-law of former Mayor, died early yesterday morning in his room at the Hotel at 1154 South Broad-years he had been estranged from his two daughters, Mrs. William Phelps, and Mrs. J. B. Ashby of Los Angeles. He had separated from his wife more than eight months ago. The cause of which he had named in other days was lost.

Rawson was in his customary room when he was last seen Saturday morning. He was afflicted with any illness.

The body was found at noon today by the proprietor of the hotel. The cause of death had been around a guest's non-appearance. It was found in a chair.

Coroner, after an examination, found that death had resulted from a heart attack. The remains were turned to the undertaker for burial.

Rawson came to Los Angeles from Chicago more than twenty years ago. He had been successful in the grocery business in the city.

He was a member of the Board of Trade here. He had been engaged in the retail grocery business, conducting what was known as the Cable Grocery on Spring Street between First and Second. He had been in business with Anderson & Channel he leased the southwest corner Main and Second streets and had the business block which is being torn down to make way for a new structure. The twenty-five years on this property subsequently passed into the hands of his son.

When at the death of his business partner, Mr. Rawson became involved in what speculation which practically wiped away his entire fortune. He was forced to leave the city and went to Mexico.

Some time ago one of the best known citizens in Southern California had a reputation among grocers in the West as one of the best there in the country.

Mr. Rawson was married three times. His last wife was a handsome woman about 25 years of age who lived at No. 301 Bonnie Road. She was a divorcee and had been married to a man who was a prominent business man.

His first wife was a divorcee. She was a woman of considerable means. He was married to her for a number of years.

EXPENSIVE CONVERSATION WITH MARTIANS.

Prof. William Henry Pickering,

INTERPLANETARY.

WE MAY TALK TO MARS, SAYS PROF. PICKERING.

Would Cost at Least Ten Million Dollars to Carry Out the Plan Suggested by Harvard's Noted Astronomer—Would Use Big Reflectors.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BOSTON, April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is a man's dream enough about it to put out about $10,000,000 there is no very good reason why the human race should not be able to talk with the planet Mars, and that so soon as next July, says Prof. William Henry Pickering, Harvard University's celebrated astronomer.

Communications with the Martians will be made possible, Prof. Pickering declares, by adopting his method of flashing messages when Mars approaches the earth to within 30,000,000 miles, or about 400,000 miles nearer than ever before. Ten millions of dollars is a large amount, he admits.

He predicts that once this means of celestial communication is established, the messages will be easily recognized, and undoubtedly answered if there is intelligent life on Mars, and that, in such case, the hitherto hidden mystery concerning Mars will become an open book to the people of the earth. Prof. Pickering describes his system in these words, "My plan of communication with Mars would necessitate the use of a series of mirrors, so arranged as to put a single reflecting surface toward that planet. These mirrors would have to be attached to one great axle, parallel to that of the earth, run by motors and so timed as to make a complete revolution every 24 hours."

"It would be necessary to have these mirrors occupy an area of more than a quarter of a mile in order to reflect a sufficient quantity of light to reach the Martians. Looking down from Mars this reflection would appear like a small point of light upon the surface of the earth."

"Supposing, with such a signal in operation, we began a series of flashes, cutting off the sun's rays for an instant, then throwing on the reflection again, repeating this at irregular intervals, forwarding us, the telegraph code of dots and dashes. I have no doubt, that, providing there were intelligent people on Mars, the light would at once attract attention and would lead eventually to an answering signal. If we received such an answer, the rest would be comparatively easy matter of establishing a code and transmitting messages."

DIES ON TRAIN.

An unidentified man, supposed to be James Bonfield, died yesterday afternoon on Southern Pacific train No. 9 shortly before it reached Los Angeles. In an inner coat pocket was found an envelope addressed to Bonfield at No. 413 Webster street, San Francisco, and postmarked Toronto, Canada. The man was about 60 years old, shabbily clad and had only 25 cents in money. The cause of death was Bright's disease.

BY SUICIDE ENDS PLOTTING.

Deranged, Waiter Sought to Murder Nurse.

Declares She Treated Dead
Wife Brutally.

Balked of Revenge He Dies
at Undertaker's.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Crawled by ill health and brooding over the death of his wife, which occurred nearly two years ago, Constantine Wickman, a waiter, ended his life in a local undertaking parlor today by firing a pistol bullet through his head.

Although not one shot was heard and only a single chamber of his revolver had been discharged, it was discovered that Wickman had another bullet in his body. It entered the left side of the chest and ranged around his body to the right side. It is supposed to have made an earlier attempt on his life, and after firing the first shot, walked several blocks to the place where his second shot terminated his existence.

From letters found on his body it was learned that Wickman had, for twenty months, plotted to kill the nurse who attended his wife during her last illness. Repeatedly, in these letters, which are in the nature of a diary, he repeated his desire to avenge the "inhuman treatment," according to his wife by Miss Melotte, which was the maiden name of Mrs. M. King, his wife.

The most recent letters stated that he had no hope of accomplishing his design, owing to falling health and would "end it all."

One of the charges he made against the nurse was that his wife was sent to the morgue "an hour before she was dead."

The police believe the man was mentally deranged, owing to his prolonged illness and grieving.

Wickman planned his suicide carefully, and selected the place some time ago. He was waiting for the body was what purported to be a will, directing that the small bank account left by the suicide be used by the undertaker in whose parlor the body was found, to defray funeral expenses.

The coroner's records show that Wickman's wife died in the Hahnemann hospital in 1930, after having been removed from a refugee house, suffering with heart disease.

Miss Melotte was head nurse at the hospital at the time, and she says she has no recollection of the case.

BATTLE WITH BANK ROBBERS.

Man and Wife Fire Twenty Shots at Burglars, But Cannot Raise Posses.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PANAMA (Ill.) April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two men robbed F. P. Blair & Co.'s bank here, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, making good their escape with $200 in cash and $500 in stamps. W. W. Mitchell and wife, living across the street, were aroused by the robbers at the bank and exchanged shots with them until the Mitchell's ammunition ran out.

Mrs. Mitchell fired half of her twenty shots at the bandits, who fired about a dozen at them. The robbers broke into the bank's front window.

After their note ceased the Mitchells toured the town, but failed to raise a posse, the sleepy inhabitants treating their story as a joke and refusing to get out of the beds. Then the Mitchells resumed their sleep. Today the bank's loss was discovered.

CEMETERY BECKONS.

GREAT-GRANDMOTHER DIES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PITTSBURGH, April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Elizabeth Hummel, aged 80, committed suicide early today by taking poison. She leaves five children, twenty-one grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren. When two of her great-grandchildren went to wake her for breakfast they found her dead.

It is thought that the cause of the suicide was the aged woman's belief that the cemetery on which her front window looked were both "beckoning to her, and hinting," and she put it.

After the family of her granddaughter, with whom she lived, had retired, Mrs. Hummel got out on the street at about midnight and took poison. She slipped quietly back to her room and drank it.

Mrs. Hummel had been married twice. Her first husband having been killed at Harper's Ferry in the Civil War.

FEARS CONSEQUENCES.

FARMER KILLS HIMSELF.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

MARYSVILLE (Kan.) April 18.—Because he had not listed all his property with the County Assessor, and feared an investigation might cause him to be sent to the penitentiary, James Clarke, 55 years old, a wealthy farmer near here, drowned himself in the Blue River. His body was found today.

In a note to his younger brother, Stuart Clarke, the man stated he had failed to list $25,000 worth of notes. He added:

"Go to church; never tell a lie; always keep employed and never drink whiskey."

TO VALUE RAILROADS.

Nebraska State Railroad Commission to Begin Work of Ascertaining Value of Corporations.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LINCOLN (Neb.) April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This week the Nebraska State Railroad Commission will take the initiative in the task the recent Legislature laid out for it, of fixing the physical value of the road, telephone, telegraph and express companies' property in this State.

A preliminary conference was held last week by three commissioners and Gov. Shallenbarger, at which the assessment was made that 1600 appropriations to begin the work is now available. The commissioners will proceed on the theory that the law is perfect and the appropriation is to be expended, although it has been announced that the validity of the enactment is questioned, and that a suit to test its constitutionality will be instituted just as soon as an attempt is made to use any of the appropriation, or to appoint any of the commissioners or clerks needed for the work.

It is said the law is discriminatory, in that it exempts the South Omaha

IS VICTIM OF CORNER.

Baker Driven to Despair Ends Life for Want of a Job.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despair and want, the results of James Patten's wheat corner, drove George Wagner, a baker, to suicide here this morning.

Wagner came to St. Louis ten days ago looking for work. He had been thrown out of employment at Litchfield, Ill., and at Perry, Mo., a short time before.

After hunting for employment at nearly every bakery in the city, he told a fellow-lodger at his rooming-house that unless some radical change came over the situation he would be driven to extremities.

This morning he was found hanging from a tree by his necktie. He has no relatives, but was acquainted in Louisville. There have been many similar cases of men losing positions in St. Louis bakeries within the last two weeks, but Wagner is the first to see the call of death in the wheat corner.

OBITUARY.

George W. Baker.

OAKLAND, April 18.—George W. Baker, a pioneer member of the western bar, died at his home in this city last night. He had been ill for some time.

For thirty years Mr. Baker had appeared in some of the leading legal societies of this State and Nevada.

He recently successfully conducted the Pittsburgh Silver Peak suit, which involved $1,000,000, and in litigation twelve years. The case concerned the title to the Pittsburgh Silver Peak mine in Blair, Nev., and was one of the most important mining suits of the last decade.

Amel Lorenz Barber.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Amel Lorenz Barber, head of the Barber Asphalt Company, died early today at Arden Park. Mr. Barber returned from California, where he had been for his health, only two weeks ago, and shortly afterward was stricken with pneumonia.

William W. Stevenson.

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William W. Stevenson, aged 63, younger brother of ex-Vice-President, Adlai E. Stevenson, died at his home here at 6 o'clock tonight, following two weeks' illness with dysentery. The only sister died last Friday in Sioux City.

William W. Stevenson was born in Kentucky, but resided here most of his life, accumulating a large fortune as merchant and coal mine operator. Three brothers survive, Adlai E., John W., and Thomas W.

Rev. Dr. James H. Riff.

LONDON, April 18.—The Rev. Dr. James Harrison Riff, the well-known Wesleyan Methodist minister, is dead.

Col. Jacob Augur.

MANILA, April 18.—Col. Jacob Augur of the Tenth Cavalry died very suddenly of apoplexy at Fort McKinley yesterday. He had called a meeting of the officers of the regiment at 9 o'clock in the morning, and soon after they had begun to gather, he was stricken, dying at 7 o'clock in the evening.

According to private cablegrams received in Manila yesterday, it was the intention of President Taft to appoint Col. Augur a brigadier-general in the near future.

Col. Augur's body will be taken to the United States for burial.

Col. Augur was a native of New York, and was appointed to the Military Academy at West Point in 1885.

Philip Bulger.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Philip Bulger, an insurance broker and clubman, well known throughout the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast States, died tonight, after an illness of four weeks. He was a native of Ireland and 54 years old.

SUBPOENA EARL ROGERS.

Attorney Says He Will Not Come to Los Angeles Until the Papers Are Served.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Earl Rogers, the Los Angeles attorney, who is a prominent figure in the defense of Patrick Cathoun, president of the United Railroads, and who acted as attorney for E. T. Earl in the southern city in the matter preceding the resignation of Mayor Harper, said today that though he understood he had been subpoenaed in connection with the latter case, he had not yet been served with the papers, and would not go to Los Angeles until service has been made.

"Naturally, I would rather not leave San Francisco during the progress of the Cathoun case," he said, "and being Mr. Earl's attorney, I would not care to discuss the matter of our finding in the Los Angeles matters, nor do I care just now to go before the grand jury there. I will wait until I have been served with a subpoena before making my move."

FACING FAMINE.

NOME (Alaska.) April 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] News from the Kuskokwim, derived from late arrivals at Kaitag and the Russian mission, reports much suffering in that country from lack of provisions. Beans and flour now constitute the bulk of all available supplies for food and these are held at famine prices.

Game is plentiful, and but for this fact many would starve before spring. Relief expeditions are being formed to relieve the prospectors that may be unable to come out.

case it is a place to get away from the game.

as he strode on with his bediamonded companion.
In a stall of the GUL, Sommers & Co.'s stables, a trainer was playing with Dominis Aori, the winner of Jack Atkins, Dominis Aori, that clipped fifty seconds off the world's record for one mile. Horse and man played with each other in a manner that was almost pathetic.
"Are these horses good for anything but racing? Could any of them be made saddle horses?" the trainer was asked.
"No," he replied, while Dominis Aori nibbled at the shoe he thrust into the animal's mouth. "They are too nervous for anything else. Some of them are being sold pretty cheap to Mexicans and other people who only want them for racing at those little Sunday meets out in the country. That is all you can do with them. Pedigree don't count there," and he smiled sadly as he tapped Dominis Aori on the jaw for biting a little too hard.

SUCH SHOCKING LANGUAGES.
Gathered about one of the several boarding houses where some of the boys waiting for supper, hardfaced youngsters, smoking cigarettes or chewing tobacco while they used a vocabulary that would have shocked a mule driver.

"What did you say to me?" angrily demanded one of them of another who had used language revolting enough to cause a wholesale killing.

The cattails were "speaking" with a silly grin. The gang looked on, expectant of a fight that would be hailed as welcome relief from the dull monotony of the day. But there was no fight.

The only lively place about the grounds was the saloon at the entrance to the track, the Norfolk which was named after "Lucky" Baldwin's first horse, Emperor of Norfolk, which died last year. Here were tough-looking men, wearing sweaters, bedraggled and dirty. The door was wet with spilled beer and spittle. There were no shouts of glee, but the three bartenders were kept busy laddling out beer to the surly customers.

"Aw, fell with the United States," growled an old Irishman. "This ain't no place for a country boy. Here's two fillies that c'd go to Europe or race anywhere," and he pointed to

WILL NOT RUN AS DEMOCRAT.

Bourbon Nominee for Mayor of Phoenix Declines.

Will Not Be Candidate of Liquor Interests.

Other Places on Ticket Remain Unfilled.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 18.—Sam Easterling, nominated for Mayor by the Democrats of Phoenix while he was absent from the city, has positively declined to run, and has been succeeded on the ticket by Robert Friedel, a local bidder.

Easterling has been quoted as saying he did not care to be considered as the candidate of the liquor interests.
The Democratic nominee for Assessor,
E. B. Pascoe, also has refused to consider himself a candidate. There is still a third vacancy on the ticket, no one being named for the office of Recorder.

The Phoenix municipal election on May 4 will be the first to be conducted under the educational qualification test for electors. By reason of this, it is expected that at least half the Mexican voters will be disfranchised.

The illiterate are keeping away from the registering office, only four applicants having been turned away for lack of ability to read a section of the Constitution of the United States.

ELECT OLD OFFICERS.
The annual meeting of the Phoenix
Board of Trade was held Tuesday.
Practically the entire board of directors was elected, and the board of officers chose the old officers, namely: President, Dr. J. W. Fox; vice-presidents, D. B. Heard and Dr. A. J. Chandler;
treasurer, S. J. Michelson; secretary, G. W. Cowgill. It was determined to prosecute a much more energetic advertising campaign than ever before known during the summer, in order to bring settlers into the Salt River Valley.

The Maricopa County Commercial Club, an organization of merchants, has elected Charles H. Akers as president, L. LaChance as vice-president, Louis Melzer as treasurer, and F. A.
Jones as secretary.

LAND FOR TOWNSITE.
A plat of nearly 1000 acres has been set aside for the Parker townsite, out of the Colorado River Mohave Indian reservation, the lots to be surveyed, appraised and offered for sale some time this fall. Parker already has a population of about 100. Its people are said to have become interested in the great dam just above the Chukawa Land and Development Company, for building a seventy-foot dam across the Colorado near the mouth of Bill Williams Fork, to divert water out on the California side. A bill permitting the building of such a dam has been introduced in Congress by Senator Flint.

The Parkerites prefer the plans of the Reclamation Service for building a great dam just above the Arizona and California Railroad bridge, intended to raise and divert water for the irrigation of lands on both sides of the stream. Of the best of desert land fully 300,000 acres lie around Parker.

Antonio Luzano last night tried to assassinate Anastasio Pallas and Librada Quesada, a woman, who had left Luzano for Pallas. The attack was made in the city of the city, the would-be assassin lying in wait for his victim by the roadside. Another af-ray was on a crowded sidewalk of Washington street, Luzano in the middle, waiting at a saloon door till his enemy, Pedro Ladas, emerged, and then stabbed him in the breast with an Italian stiletto. Luzano in the fall, but Carmelo has escaped. Pallas was not seriously injured, though stabbed several times, but Ladas may die.

Announcement has been made that the Arizona Railroad Commission will hold its first general session in Phoenix, April 19. Invitation is given for the appearance of all corporations, municipal and commercial bodies, shipping associations and individuals who may wish to file complaints against transportation lines. Succeeding sessions will be held on the third Mondays of June, August, October and December.

Maurice Salzman and A. T. White of Los Angeles have purchased the Border Hotel and have moved its office from Tucson to Phoenix. The business manager will be Miss Angeline Newton, also of Los Angeles. Arizona and Northern Mexico will be the special field of the publication.

April 15 is to be "Flower Day" in Phoenix, according to plans made by the First Methodist Church, and a committee of its parishioners. On that day flowers will be distributed to the hospitals, in the tent colonies and to the sick of the city and its vicinity, wherever they may be found.

Salt River again is fordable at Tempe, for the first time in six months.

Construction of the storage dam at Roosevelt has effectually cut off passage of fish to the up-river to the ground, and the stream below the dam is reported swarming.

John McCabe, late of Los Angeles, manager of the Arizona Hotel, in Pinal county, was married in Phoenix
Monday to Mrs. Ethel E. Roberts.
They will be at home at No. 514 North
First avenue, Phoenix, after May 1.

Director F. H. Newell of the Reclamation Service arrived in Phoenix this morning, on an inspection trip embracing the dams at Roosevelt, Granite Reef and Laguna.

J. M. Elliott of Los Angeles, who was reported one of the promoters of a waterworks and power plant project at Parker, Ariz., is not connected in any way with the enterprise.

TOWN'S MORALS GUARDED.
Police Arrest Occupants of Poolroom,
Who Were Gambling, and Boy
"Crab Shooters."

While a game of "pen" pool was in progress at the poolroom of Henry Brothers, at No. 619 1/2 South Main street, yesterday afternoon, the place was raided by patrolmen, and one of the proprietors, Bert Henry, an employee, M. Beveridge, and eight other men were taken into custody. Henry and Beveridge were charged with conducting a gambling game, but were released on $100 bail each. The others were booked as gamblers.

The officers also arrested five newsboys, who were caught "shooting craps," yesterday behind the billboards that inclose a vacant lot at Sixth and Los Angeles streets.

MADE IN LOS ANGELES

Patronize home industry. There is no reason on earth why furniture made right here should not be as good as any. We know that it is and all we want is an opportunity to show you. Compare prices and quality.

This argument applies more particularly to fumed Mission furniture. Why not? Is this not the home of Missions and Mission furniture? There is no more suitable furniture made anywhere in the world than our quartered oak for living-room or dining-room. An example of what we can do is herewith shown. Built on heavy, generous lines—yet not heavy enough to be clumsy.

$90.00

Every piece of the beautiful "Made in Los Angeles" furniture is constructed of the best grade material—heavy, massive, upright posts, giving the true Mission effect. The upholstery is all in the finest genuine Spanish leather.

The Davenport shown in this ad is 7 feet long—made with the best steel spring seat. With it are three large Spanish leather pillows filled with high-grade flock. An extra value at $90.00.

The rocker illustrated is of the same construction and massive design. Built in just the right way to make it comfortable and easy. Price $37.50.

The chair is much larger than the ordinary and would be an ornament to any home. Quality considered, this cannot be equaled for $35.00.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

Lawson and the others to the contrary and notwithstanding, "Jim" Patten did not, through his own efforts, put the price of wheat where it is. He simply learned more accurately than the Agricultural Department of the government the condition of the wheat crops of the world months ago. He foresaw there was going to be a shortage in wheat the world over, and took advantage of his knowledge.

If it was Patten's manipulation that put the price of wheat up in Chicago, what was it that raised the price of the commodity in Mexico, Argentina, Australia, South Africa and Canada? If it was Patten's manipulation that raised the price of wheat in the Chicago pit artificially, why is it that cash wheat is correspondingly dear in Liverpool, Antwerp and at Havre? If it is simply an artificial corner in the speculative market in Chicago, why is it that Kansas millers are buying wheat in Chicago and shipping it back to Kansas in order to keep their mills in operation?

These are the facts. It may be that the farmers are holding back their wheat for higher prices, but if they are it is because they know the supply is not what the Agricultural Department reports it to be.

Patten's corner has not been checking the export movement of wheat during the whole crop year. For the week ended April 15 the exports of wheat, including flour, from the United States and Canada, amounted to 1,475,500 bushels. The week before the export movement was nearly one-third less, running at a little over 1,000,000 bushels. For the corresponding week last year the export movement was 2,470,177 bushels, or 1,000,000 more than for the week this year, and nearly half a million more than for the preceding week this year.

We concede that a week is too narrow an example to generalize upon. Let us therefore take forty-two weeks of the crop year ended April 15. We find the exports were 150,000,000 bushels in round numbers, compared with 175,000,000 bushels in the corresponding time in the last crop year, showing a decrease of 25,000,000 bushels. In other words, the movement in these forty-two weeks last year was one-sixth greater than in the corresponding time this year. There is basis for generalization.

The corn exports from this country for the same week as we have taken the export of wheat fell below 800,000 bushels, against 927,000 bushels for the previous week, and 293,000 bushels in the corresponding week in 1908. Notice the increase in the exports of corn and then realize that dear wheat always creates an increased demand for corn.

Now turn to the forty-two weeks of the crop year and we find there were exported 26,500,000 bushels of corn in that time, compared with 43,250,000 bushels in the same time two weeks last year. Here we have a decrease in the export of corn amounting to about 15,000,000 bushels. The enormous jump in wheat during the few last weeks created an unusual demand for corn.

But we need not be frightened as to a bread famine in the immediate future. The wheat areas of the world are not all brought into bearing yet, nor is the limit of wheat production nearly reached. The plains of Western Canada produced last year 112,000,000 bushels of wheat. Only about 5 per cent. of that area is under cultivation. With the extension of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad for many hundreds of miles there will be opened a wheat belt of great productiveness forty miles wide along the line. From Winnipeg, Manitoba, to the base of the Rocky Mountains there is 1200 miles of this wheat land. Forty miles on each side of the line amount to 30,000,000 acres of land made accessible for cultivation. Taking the average production of say fifteen bushels, we have here a territory capable of producing almost 500,000,000 bushels of wheat.

These rich lands of Canada are attracting a great population. The Dominion now is supposed to contain 8,000,000 inhabitants; at the present rate of growth, in ten years there will be 10,000,000, and in twenty years not less than 15,000,000. It is quite possible that the production of wheat there will reach 1,000,000,000 bushels a year. These Canadian wheat lands are attracting American farmers by thousands. It is estimated from the movement this spring that during the current year there will go into Western Canada 70,000 Americans, who will found 20,000 to 25,000 homes. Confessedly, the population of the United States is reaching a point where the exportation of breadstuffs will diminish rapidly and in no great number of years will cease. With a home market for all the breadstuffs produced in the country the price of all cereals must be higher than when large portions of the crop must seek a market beyond seas. The price of cattle and meats advancing, farmers all over the country will turn their attention to the raising of cattle, sheep and pigs on each little farm. The enlarging of the grazing area necessarily takes away just so much from the tilled lands, and as the cereal crops are the principal ones throughout the great plains of the Central States of America the production of breadstuffs must diminish excepting in so far as the average yield per acre shall be increased by better methods of cultivation. There is here a wide field for improvement and the prices advance farmers will find it will pay to give more attention to cultivation of their fields. With the rotation of crops, grazing a field for a year or two and then breaking up the sod and returning it to corn or wheat, an augmentation of the average production of the cereals will result.

COAST BANK CLEARINGS.

Bank clearings in the cities of the Coast the past week are attracting a great deal of attention. The exchanges day by day are nearly 100 per cent. larger than for the corresponding day last year and also very considerably more for two years ago. The inquiry is natural, "Why should this condition prevail in the banking business all over the Coast, Los Angeles leading all the other cities in the very great increase shown in the movement of funds?" The increase over a year ago in the California bank clearings is easily accounted for. The second installment of taxes of all kinds is now being paid. They become delinquents at the end of this month and the property owners are paying up very promptly in anticipation of delinquent day. The reason the clearings run 100 per cent. over last year day by day is that at this time a year ago we were using bank scrip instead of legal tender and the county and city treasurers are forbidden by law to take other than actual money for taxes. The authorities had extended the delinquent date by a considerable period a year ago in order to give the taxpayers a chance to pay after the banks resumed specie payments.

As to the increase of the exchanges passing through the clearinghouse over two years ago, that is due to an improvement in business. In April, 1907, there was already more or less slowing up in many of the branches of merchandising and manufacturing, and this spring there has been quite a little general improvement over the dull times. The difference in two years is not so very marked, for the reason that in April, 1907, the dullness had not become emphasized and now the revival is but well begun.

But the business public is now in a very different mood from that of the boom. The impulse there was to plunge. The disposition now is generally to be cautious. As a matter of fact, merchants and manufacturers are still engaged in the process of liquidation to some extent to get from under the burden of obligations they heaped upon themselves in the very flush days. The banks are well supplied with funds. If they all should make a statement at the present time the cash reserves would probably show all of 50 per cent. of the deposits there. At this time of the year many eastern people pull out for home and draw down their amounts in the bank to take with them. In spite of this the banks generally report increasing deposits from day to day. This is largely due to the incoming of actual settlers, exceeding in numbers the outgoing tourists who have been here during the winter. It is also due in part to the good prices received by crop growers all over Southern California, which have been bringing in a great deal of money. In fact, the country banks are better supplied with funds than those in the city in proportion to their business. Some of them are pressing money upon Los Angeles merchants.

There is a tendency toward easier rates of interest, especially on real estate. It is difficult during the current days to get 7 per cent. for money even in moderate quantities. The savings banks are shading down to 6 1/2 per cent. on these loans, and private money is reported to be seeking investment at even 6 per cent.

The month of April is making an excellent record in building. The population of Los Angeles is growing rapidly and many of our people are all the time building houses for their own use. If things keep on as they are, April is likely to show an increase of 100 per cent. over a year ago. As to general business, it will be a long time before we see an era like that which prevailed two, three or four years ago. After the destruction of San Francisco business developed here at a wonderful pace, and every business man was disposed to meet the demand made upon him. To do that he had to assume great financial obligations. When the panic fell somewhat unexpectedly some got caught, a few of them in a very deep hole. They have been scrambling ever since to get out and it will be years before they forget this salutary experience and become again disposed to plunge beyond reason and safety. But there is and will be a steady recrudescence of confidence on the part of the people. The country is too vast and too rich to suffer long depression. From the East we hear that the crop prospects are good. Of course it is early in the spring to make definite prognostications, but for this early period things look well.

PAUPERISM IN ENGLAND.

The royal commission appointed in England about three years ago to investigate the working of the poor laws has just made its report and it seems to have produced some yearly workings of the national conscience. The commission consisted of eight men, all of them eminent in some department of social work and with full power to examine witnesses and to obtain information in any practicable way. That the report should be unanimous, except upon some minor points, proves how terribly obvious are the existing evils and how little has so far been done by the government to lessen the gravity of a situation that contains dangers more real than that of a German invasion and demanding greater vigilance and a speedier remedy.

The onward march of English pauperism during the last forty years has been continuous. At no time has there been a check. Year by year we see an increasingly vast army of men and women who give up in despair the struggle for existence and who sink to the level where self-respect is lost and reliance upon charity becomes a habit. From that point there are very few returns. The line between self-support and dependence is sharply drawn and the mark of the fall is ineffaceable. The decade ending in 1906 witnessed the creation of 24,000 paupers over the previous decade, and for the whole of England and Wales the additions to the sorrowful ranks were over 35 per cent. Worse than all else, the increase of the last few years has not been due to the birth of pauper children to pauper parents, but to an actual increase of adult paupers. The recruits come mainly from those who were once self-supporting, but who find themselves at middle age overwhelmed by social conditions that are too strong for them. The existence of a pauper class, and of a hereditary pauper class, is a problem familiar to most of the older civilizations, but that such a class should be steadily and enormously recruited by men and women who have actually reached an independent middle age when their labor is most effective is a sinister portent of the deepest significance.

The commissioners had of course nothing to do with any but the more immediate and obvious causes. It was no part of their duty to direct attention to a system of taxation that enables a privileged caste to levy its demands directly upon commercial intelligence and energy and to reap the fruits of improvements that it in no way helped to create. Its function was rather to take cognizance of pauperism as it exists and to recommend such measures as seem to be needed for its regulation, control and diminution. Its suggestions are certainly not open to the charge of inadequacy. So far from advising any more tinkering with the existing system it would see well nigh the whole of that system swept away bag and baggage, with its incompetent and sometimes corrupt officialism that recognizes no difference between one pauper and another, between the hopeless and lazy vagabond and the industrious workman who has been overtaken by temporary calamity. The modern workhouse is rightly denounced as a direct irritation of the social wound with its utter lack of discrimination, its readiness to affix a brand that cannot be removed and its almost inconceivable stupidity in preventing a return to independence. The problem, we are told, must be faced not by local boroughs, by bums, or by boards of guardians, but by properly constituted authorities having jurisdiction over wide areas and with a heedful eye to the differences between men and women, young and old, the healthy and the sick, the vagrant and the unfortunate. For the habitual or hereditary pauper, for the tramp and the ne'er-do-weel no rigors can be too great, while for the victims of economic accident, for the deserving and the sick no aid can be too prompt, too intelligent or too sympathetic.

The suggestions of the commission for diverting the stream of necessity before it reaches the point of pauperism are well considered and practical. Technical education in England can be said to have done little more than make a feeble beginning. Every year sees thousands of boys turned out from the public schools with absolutely no knowledge of how to use their hands in a practical or a profitable way. The greater number of these boys without money or influence must perforce start upon careers such as that of the messenger services, that have no goal of middle-age serviceableness and that must lead almost inevitably downward to the workhouse in a country where every department of industry is overcrowded and where the workman must either have the highest efficiency or be unemployed. Another recommendation points to the establishment of labor exchanges and for the development of some plan by which local needs can be expeditiously and cheaply met from other districts. There should also be some kind of information bureau that will place supply and demand in closer touch. Then there are the remedies of insurance against unemployment and of a system of well-directed emigration that would give to the colonies what they need in the way of labor without incurring their resentment at being used as dumping grounds. The problem, as the commissioners say, is a vast one. Nothing in the way of a universal patent medicine can be applied to it, but by resolute and patient measures it can be aborn of some of its worst features.

There is still another point not without its sociological interest. Vast as is the number of actual paupers in England, how much vaster is the number of those who are so close to the abyss that they know not what day or what hour will see them fall into it? And what must be the mental effect upon those who are never without this dreadful specter at their sides, and to what extent must this operate in a deterioration of national stamina and character? Certainly England is facing the problem none too soon.

Sehnsucht.

(Yearning.)
O clouds that travel the April wind,
Trailing a shadow of blue,
O waters of brown that dark reeds bind
And yellow stones gleam through!
My heart flows after you, cloud and stream,
And ventures the far unknown—
The way of freedom, the way of dream,
Born of the spring alone.
What music wafts to my rhythmic heart,
What scents to my bosom wing,
What spicy wafts of a spirit mart
Lure me along the spring!
Always beyond is the fair, the sweet,
The wine, the flower, the gold,
Something vanishing, fairy-fleet,
Even within the hold.
Welcome then, thou world-desire,
Divinely restless wing!
Haunt me and urge me farther and higher,
Wild with the yearning of spring.

APOLLO CLUB MUSICAL.

Fourth Anniversary Celebrated at Anaheim—Members of Los Angeles Commerce Chamber.

ANAHEIM, April 18.—The Apollo Club celebrated its fourth anniversary Friday afternoon at the Odd Fellows hall. A musical program was given by Miss Bable Clark, Miss Helen Werner and Miss Nell Murray, all of Los Angeles. More than one hundred persons were present.

The Presbyterian congregation has decided to enlarge the church building by adding a Sunday-school room, 30x30 feet.

Members of the Los Angeles and Orange Chambers of Commerce will visit this city, Fullerton and other parts of northern Orange county, Tuesday afternoon, in auto.

Mrs. L. W. Hurd has returned to Somerville, Tenn., after visiting Rev. Mr. Juny and family.

Mrs. Lena Abuta has gone to Fall City, Neb.

Mrs. L. E. Wane, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to Cleveland, Wyo.

The 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barnes of West Anaheim died Friday.

Mrs. J. S. Carroll of Los Angeles is a guest of Mrs. C. F. Grim.

The position of carrier on rural route No. 2 is filled by Miss Alta Lagourne.

The 25-foot lot south of the First National Bank has been sold to Samuel Krammer for $2500 and a brick building is to be erected on the property.

Mr. J. S. Carroll of Los Angeles is a guest of Mrs. C. F. Grim.

Perris Valley Farmer Disposes of Property for Twenty Thousand Dollars—Purchasers Expect to Get Back Large Share of Investment This Year from Sale of Crops.

RIVERSIDE, April 18.—A deal was closed yesterday by which J. T. Hamner sold his Perris Valley dry-farming holdings, consisting of 2500 acres of growing barley and oats, to a group of investors.

The property is sold with the growing crops, and as the harvest promises to be a heavy one the purchasers will get back a large share of their investment this year.

While in Riverside yesterday afternoon, Elbert Hubbard confirmed the report that he was contemplating the location of another Roycroft shop somewhere in California, though he said that he had not yet perfected his plans for it.

Accompanied by his daughter, Miriam, and his friend, Frank A. Miller, of the Glenwood, Fra Elbertus enjoyed an automobile trip to the Sherman Indian school at the hour of the flag drill and lowering of the flag at sunset. He disagreed with the saying that "The only good Indian is the dead Indian," and said: "Good Indians are busy Indians. An idle Indian is a dead one, whether he is dead or alive—whether he is a red Indian or a white Indian." Late last evening Mr. Hubbard, who has lived in the family for San Bernardino, where he took the Santa Fe overland for Tucson, Ariz.

FILES ITS ARTICLES.

The California Lock and Hardware Company, which recently secured ground for the erection of a manufacturing plant near the site of the Pacific Mail Steamer Company's factory on Jurupa avenue, has filed its articles of incorporation in the County Clerk's office.

The capital stock of the company is $200,000. Its directors, all of whom are Los Angelesans, are Edward C. Rich, Arthur H. Bailey, Orville Ewing, J. Brent Harding and Hannah C. Harding.

AUDUBON CELEBRATION.

The celebration of the signing of the Audubon bill providing for the protection of birds, the members of the local Audubon Society inaugurated at the Glenwood Mission Inn last evening.

The guests of honor were Senator Reddick and his wife, who were instrumental in the passage of the bill. They, with Frank A. Miller, were appointed a committee to request the members of the local Audubon Society to appoint two school teachers as game wardens to lecture throughout the State to school children on birds, fish and game, the lecture to be illustrated by stereopticon views.

ONE SIDED SCORE.

By the one-sided score of 17 to 0, the Riverside baseball team defeated the Japanese team at Evans Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. Riverside played almost an errorless game. The Japs played fast ball but were weak on hitting and lost their heads at critical moments.

Steamship Company Which is to Operate Between San Pedro and North to Be Host.

CARRYING ABOUT 700 GUESTS OF THE ALASKA-PACIFIC STEAMSHIP COMPANY, the steamship Admiral Sampson, one of the finest and fastest vessels on the Pacific Coast, will take a run out to sea today, April 22, to demonstrate her speed and the comforts of her equipment.

The Admiral Sampson, which was built on the eastern coast for the United Fruit Company, a concern noted for the swiftness of its craft, which ply between New Orleans and tropical points, will cover the distance between San Francisco and San Pedro in twenty-four hours. The ship has been thoroughly rebuilt in San Francisco at a cost of about $100,000, extensive changes being made to equip her for first-class passenger service between San Pedro and Port of San Francisco, stopping at San Francisco.

The deckhouse has been extended and redited, with no less than 17000 has been expended for the one item of linen, the same generally ruling in other provisions for the comfort of the passengers.

The Admiral Sampson, which is 300 feet long, will carry 200 regular passengers and 2500 tons of freight. Her furnaces have been changed so that she will burn oil instead of coal, and other alterations have been made to add to the advantages of the ship and insure greater economy in her operation.

The ship will sail on Thursday's excursion upon the arrival of a special train which will take the Los Angeles depot of the Salt Lake Railway at 1 o'clock that afternoon. The trip will take some distance past Catalina Island.

PIONEER SALESMAN DIES.

Pneumonia Causes the Passing of Frank Humphreys, President of Woodmanware Concern.

After a week's illness of pneumonia, Frank Humphreys, president of the Standard Woodware Company, died yesterday noon at his residence, No. 214 West Washington street.

He was widely known in Southern California and Arizona, which field he had covered as a traveling salesman for twenty years. He came to California in 1875 with his parents, the late Charles and Cordelia P. Humphreys, and the family settled in Santa Ana.

In the fall of 1888 Mr. Humphreys came to Los Angeles and entered the employ of the Standard Woodware Company, which he remained with until 1900, when he, with Dodo Weibers, E. Levy and Joseph Jones, organized the Standard Woodware Company, of which Mr. Humphreys was president up to his death. There was probably no more popular salesman among out of Los Angeles than Mr. Humphreys, who was esteemed not only for his business qualifications, but for his genial personality and lovable nature. He leaves a widow and one son, George H. Humphreys, and a sister, Miss Jane C. Humphreys.

No time has been definitely set for the funeral, but in all probability it will take place Wednesday afternoon.

DEATH OF P. W. MULLER.

Retired Grocer, Well-Known in Business Circles, Passes Away at His Home.

Peter W. Muller, well known in business circles, died Saturday night at his home, No. 126 West Jefferson avenue. Interment will be made privately this afternoon at Rosedale, after services at the chapel of Overholser-Mills at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Muller was born in Germany seventy-two years ago, and came to Los Angeles in 1888. He was engaged in the grocery business and prospered, retiring from active life some time ago. He was survived by two sons, William L. Muller of Santa Monica, and Peter H. Muller of this city, and four daughters, Mrs. Thomas E. Burns, Mrs. F. J. Cohen, Mrs. K. Anderson and Mrs. Emma Schram, all of Los Angeles.
